Reports to	Head of Strength and Conditioning	Date of Approval	26 October 2024

ORGANISATIONAL OVERVIEW

The NSW Institute of Sport [NSWIS] is a high performance sporting organisation that supports Australian athletes to become world’s best. We reach all regions of NSW with an Olympic and Paralympic training facility based at Sydney Olympic Park and high performance hubs across NSW that provide world class daily training environments for our athletes and coaches. Our experts work in collaboration with partners within the national sporting system to create and deliver high performance support services and environments to prepare athletes and coaches for international competition.

ROLE PURPOSE

The Senior Strength and Conditioning Practitioner is responsible for supporting the Lead of Strength and Conditioning in the development and management of the strength and conditioning team. This position will design, implement and deliver world class technical expertise in strength and conditioning support services for allocated sport(s) programs to effectively optimise the achievement of performance outcomes in an integrated inter-disciplinary performance team.

In addition, Senior Sport Science roles at NSWIS are expected to positively contribute to organisational and high-performance planning and initiatives and are accountable for maintaining world class technical standards consistently within their discipline.

KEY PERFORMANCE AREAS

- Support the Section Lead, Strength and Conditioning in all aspects of the delivery of strength and conditioning support within NSWIS including but not limited to staff management, facility management, budget planning, establishing, and maintaining a positive team culture.
- Support the professional development process for strength and conditioning staff including setting direction and standards, engagement with the wider Institute/NSO network staff and other international colleagues.
- Design and implement high quality and specialised strength and conditioning programs in partnership with coaches and other sport science providers. These programs will include, but are not limited to, strength and power enhancement, speed enhancement, agility and movement skills refinement, endurance capacity increases and injury prevention/rehabilitation.
- Collaborate to ensure world class rehabilitation programming, delivery and development to ensure effective and efficient support delivery within each athlete case and sport program.
- Support assigned sport programs in all aspects of strength and conditioning and monitoring in the daily training environment, as well as camps and competition when required.
- Drive a culture of continuous improvement by constructively challenging coaches to develop appropriate strategies to achieve objectives of continued athlete development and performance.
- Ensure the effective operation of strength and conditioning support provision via a system leadership role in partnership with assigned sport science staff.
- Facilitate conflict resolution and management of issues impacting on athlete performance while proactively contributing to performance teams through individual accountability, sharing information, involving team members in decisions, and demonstrating commitment to the team.

- Support a learning environment which enables coaches and athletes to gain insights through physical and performance variables which assess training program effectiveness, informs program design and competition strategies, and contributes to a multi-disciplinary approach to athlete/event profiling.
- Establish and maintain effective partnerships with key internal and external stakeholders to deliver high quality outcomes and assist in the delivery of quality advice and reporting on relevant issues to senior management.
- Ensure adequate monitoring and reporting in relation to, athlete program design, athlete attendance and adherence, testing and monitoring reports, program review and facility updates.

KEY CHALLENGES

- Fulfilling leadership role(s) within a sport performance team and managing aspects of the strength and conditioning enhancement environment of athletes.
- Capability to establish professional relationships across discipline areas and negotiate effectively through competing and conflicting priorities.
- The ability to persuade, educate and motivate staff, athletes and coaches to new ways of working, change behaviours and adherence to the prescribed strength and conditioning support program regardless of designated geographical location that provides a performance impact remotely which can include 'cross discipline' delivery of performance support requiring close liaison with discipline expertise.
